MuJoCo Pro Software License Agreement: Personal Student

Roboti LLC grants you a Personal Student license to use the MuJoCo Pro software under the following terms and conditions:

1. You must be a full-time student.

2. You may only use the software for personal projects for which financial support is not available. You may not use the software for work performed as part of employment (including research and teaching assistantships, internships, self-employment), or for projects where you receive reimbursement for publication fees, conference travel or other project-related expenses.

3. Class projects and home works where MuJoCo is either required by the instructor, or is recommended and more than half of the students in the class are using it, are not considered personal projects. Instead they are projects assigned by your school – in which case your school should purchase an institutional license and provide it to you.

4. You will not modify, disassemble or reverse-engineer the binary files provided with the software, and will not share the software activation key with anyone.
